

Interested in joining the Catholic Church?

We're interested in talking with you about it.

How long does it take?

About a year, give or take. Depends on your background and some of your interests. Ten meetings over the course of a year cover the basic material.

Where does the group meet?

We meet in a parish classroom as a small group, plus we have one gathering at church. There is also a service project component.

What type of work is required?

Group members read selected material on their own. During class, there is a presentation, and a discussion of the assigned reading material.

When does the group meet?

A time that is mutually agreeable for the interested individuals is selected. Some students may work in smaller sub-sets of the main group.

Who can attend?

RCIA is a class for adults. Some know a little about the Church, others not as much. Perhaps you were baptized in a different Christian denomination (like Lutheran or Methodist). Or perhaps you've never been baptized. All are welcome to join RCIA!

Who should I contact?
